HSE Training Services

Helping you develop a health & safety, environmental and quality policy with effective support from your employees

BUSINESS CHALLENGE

You need to establish training programs that educate your own employees and your supply chain partners about health & safety, environmental and quality issues in the workplace.
Training can be carried out to deliver short-term requirements, such as for behavioral improvement or for re-skilling of re-deployed people. Or it can be part of long-term planned programs for induction of new employees or preparing staff for job changes.
What ever the need, you want to ensure that people are properly qualified and competent to do the job.

SOLUTION

What are the HSE Training Services?
Bureau Veritas offers a comprehensive portfolio of training services covering a wide range of compliance and business improvement issues:

- HSE management;
- Process safety;
- Occupational health and hygiene;
- Environment.

We provide face to face 'in-company' training courses – where our trainers will present bespoke courses at either your sites or at one of our facilities.
We also provide open courses which are run throughout the year and arrange e-learning modules as an alternative to traditional training methods.

What are the key benefits?
Targeted training keeps your business on an even keel. You must ensure that people - employees and contractors - are capable of carrying out their functions and understand the need to comply with standards, work practices, and legislation.
Bureau Veritas courses ensure that the people who work for your organization have the training that enables them to do their job in a way that respects the health and safety of themselves and others, and the environment.

WHY CHOOSE BUREAU VERITAS ?

Bureau Veritas is one of the world's leading training organisations – offering more than 3500 training courses in QHSE and social accountability management systems in more than 70 countries around the world. Our training services are certified to ISO 9001.

Bureau Veritas can tailor training schemes to a client's topic list and timescale. We also offer gap-analysis determining the expertise of people in particular work, and developing a deficiency list to cover the gaps in legislative or working practices know-how etc.

The delivery of training can be at client premises, Bureau Veritas offices, or at regional centres as a result of industrial initiatives – i.e. multi-client training or awareness sessions to overcome specific industrial problems: permit to work, confined space entry, legionella awareness, fire-fighter basic training, NEBOSH safety training, etc.

OUR APPROACH

Our approach is based on practical cases taken from business life and on feedback.

The ability of our trainers to react fast has allowed us to develop a "proactive" methodology, adapting course content to your needs.

Our in-company training services follow a proven process:

- Analysis of needs: general goals, target population, specific issues/malfunctions,
- Educational course design: definition of courses, programs and course lengths, etc,
- Validation: approval by those in charge, field validation after test sessions, and adaptation of media used,
- Successful operational rollout.

FAQ

Do you have a training offer for ISO 9001 and ISO 14001 and similar standards?
Yes, we work with these types of standard in most of the countries where we do business.

Can you help in the training of operating technicians who are being re-deployed as safety inspectors?
Yes again. Operating technicians make ideal safety inspectors because they have skills and they know what can go wrong during fabrication and maintenance activities. During the training, we will highlight those individuals who have the meticulous approach required to be an inspector, and we will confirm that view by examination.
